DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-21 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In claims 1, 11 and 12 the recitation of the push rod being "deflected" or "deflectable" lacks enablement since it does not appear from the provided Specification and Drawings that there is any type of deflection in the push rod. Even though the terms "deflect" or "deflection" are mentioned in the specification around 17 times, there is no indication on how said deflection is measured or produced in said push rod, and it is not comprehensible from the depicted and described mechanism how the push rod bends.

Specification

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: in page 11, lines 34, the indication of "push rod 31" should read "push rod 21". Appropriate correction is required.

Citation of Prior Art

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art considered pertinent during examination of the examined application is:

Art Unit: 2855

- Mattei et al. (Pat. 4,733,673) Method and device for deeding strip paper on a dual-rod cigarette manufacturing machine.
- Focke et al. (Pat. 6,508,138) Method of, and device for, checking cigarettes.
